GARAGE DOOR AND OPENER AND INSTALL

One time entry by June 30th...does not say if random or judged...so I would go under the impression of at least doing a decent photo to have a chance.

NYC HOTEL AND SHOW

No transportation on this one, but I love their concept....send them a letter/envelope and make it stand out based on which show you want to enter for...there are three. First deadline is for Dolly Parton on June 15th.

TRIP TO VEGAS - RODEO FINALS

Enter with purchase or brief survey by the end of the month.

I tried an experiment this weekend. Joe Gibbs Racing gives numerous things away on twitter. Every person I see win is a huge NASCAR/JGR fan. I enter them if I see them, typically while watching a race, but have yet to win. This weekend I had Leigh change her twitter page to look like a JGR fan and then enter some creative, unusual tweets to get their attention. She ended up winning a small prize....it may be just a coincidence but i'm not sold it is.

Some have heard me speak of the differences between sponsors and promotional companies....Promotional companies DO love sweepers, they drive up their numbers and usually their income. Sponsors or small companies typically want the every Joe or Fan to win what they are giving away. Not long ago, I was on a trip win that I had asked about people who mail in their entries. A comment was made by the sponsor, that was running the promotion in house, that we somehow misplaced those entries.

This is why I like to see who is running the promotion. If it is Hello World or Marden Kane or any of the major ones...you should be in good shape to enter however you want. If it is a purchase required sweep that is being run by the company hosting the giveaway...I typically will not be mailing in an entry. Understand - this is strictly my opinion

GRILLS

One time entry online or by texting GRILL to 68984. Ends June 21st. Winner must pick up the grill at their local Texas Roadhouse. Some restaurants will not give a grill away but instead a $500 GC.

Four $25 GIFT CARDS

This ends at 9pm EST tonight - comment how many points the Cavs score tonight. You also have to like and share their post. Anyone that picks correct will go in drawing for the GCs. This is a local chain that I grew up on...many enter still from out of state for all their promos as they use them when they return...but tonight's is national gc's.

$10000 - NEW GAP PROMO - TONS OF PRIZES

This one is out there, but even if you do not want to mess with all their photo challenges, ect...mail a few entries in....lots of prizes, various entry periods...Entry period one ends in a few days and entries do not roll over. Here are the rules....again...if its too much...at least send a few mail ins....it is run by Hello World so at least you know your entries will not be thrown away.

based on my experiences.

The goal of iWIN is to help you win...to not have you waste time entering sweeps that give you very little chance to win. The general rule is still - the more you enter - the more you win....but as one of the most respected sweepers has said, and I use it often....Luck + Skill = Winning.

Look for those winnable sweeps...they are out there!

Congrats to more Corona winners recently! Keep entering that one all summer - TEXT RAISESUMMER to 24455 daily! and then use the code to enter.

See some of you in NH this weekend!
